 wanted to start this venture, to add an artistic approach to photography. I have had a love for taking pictures since majoring in Art Education at Ball State. While there I took photography as an elective, and loved the first class and found myself taking another class and yet another, until I incorporated photography in as a minor.

Now, with four teenagers, who are almost grown, it is time to begin to do what I have a passion for, and to expand my horizons from family and friends now to include the public.
